

March 24, 2024
Mark Harris
Palm Sunday
Matthew 21:1-11

A Dramatic Entry into Jerusalem

Why is the response to Jesus' entry so mixed?
(Some are enthusiastic, others are troubled).

One possible interpretation:

Who is this Jesus?! Mixed messages: on the one hand Jesus seems determined to make it clear he is the Messiah.

On the other he seems to be totally challenging or subverting the expectations of the crowds in terms of who the Messiah should be!

Is this a triumphal entry? Is it a humble entry?

(Jesus is the) crucified Messiah, the modest King, the lowly Lord, the human God.... (here) we have Jesus as he wants to be seen: as Emmanuel, as the true God with us in a truly human way, at our level: God on a donkey.

Dale Bruner

What Does it Mean to Follow the Humble King?

Upward Mobility and Downward Mobility

Practicing humility in our homes

Letting Jesus Define What Triumph Means

Are we willing to allow Jesus to be the King/Messiah in our lives, one who comes sometimes not in power but in gentleness?

They wanted a Messiah, but this one was going to be enthroned on a pagan cross... (he) was going to rescue them (not from the surface evil of Roman oppression) but from evil at its full depths.

NT Wright

Special Events this Week

Upcoming Events

Wills and Estates

- Have you made plans to look after your family?
- Do you have guardians identified to care for children?
- Do you own property or investments - in NS or overseas?
- Do you know Nova Scotia's laws about estates?
- Without a will, the courts will decide for you.

• Come to this information seminar by a local lawyer specializing in wills and estates. Learn what you need to consider, ask your questions and be better prepared.

Grace Chapel - Sat 6 Apr 2024 9:30-11:30 am

Chika Chiekwe
Partner, Cox Palmer

Register on Elvanto or the signup sheet in the Foyer.
Send your questions in advance in Elvanto or email 59@GraceChapel.ca

March 24, 2024
Mark Harris
Palm Sunday
Matthew 21:1-11

A Dramatic Entry into Jerusalem

Why is the response to Jesus' entry so mixed?
(Some are enthusiastic, others are troubled).

One possible interpretation:

Who is this Jesus?! Mixed messages: on the one hand Jesus seems determined to make it clear he is the Messiah.

On the other he seems to be totally challenging or subverting the expectations of the crowds in terms of who the Messiah should be!

Is this a triumphal entry? Is it a humble entry?

(Jesus is the) crucified Messiah, the modest King, the lowly Lord, the human God.... (here) we have Jesus as he wants to be seen: as Emmanuel, as the true God with us in a truly human way, at our level: God on a donkey.

Dale Bruner

What Does it Mean to Follow the Humble King?

Upward Mobility and Downward Mobility

Practicing humility in our homes

Letting Jesus Define What Triumph Means

Are we willing to allow Jesus to be the King/Messiah in our lives, one who comes sometimes not in power but in gentleness?

They wanted a Messiah, but this one was going to be enthroned on a pagan cross... (he) was going to rescue them (not from the surface evil of Roman oppression) but from evil at its full depths.

NT Wright

Special Events this Week

Upcoming Events

Wills and Estates

- Have you made plans to look after your family?
- Do you have guardians identified to care for children?
- Do you own property or investments - in NS or overseas?
- Do you know Nova Scotia's laws about estates?
- Without a will, the courts will decide for you.

• Come to this information seminar by a local lawyer specializing in wills and estates. Learn what you need to consider, ask your questions and be better prepared.

Grace Chapel - Sat 6 Apr 2024 9:30-11:30 am

Chika Chiekwe
Partner, Cox Palmer

Register on Elvanto or the signup sheet in the Foyer.
Send your questions in advance in Elvanto or email 59@GraceChapel.ca

